

Attestation Tool Kit

Minimise Compliance Risk, Improve Safety and Increase Workforce Productivity

Failing to comply with government labour regulations and collective bargaining agreements can lead to serious financial consequences and other repercussions:

- Noncompliance lawsuits
- Audits
- Reputational damage
- Union grievances
- Employee relations problems

The Kronos® Attestation Tool Kit gives both managers and employees the tools needed to make it easier to comply with state, local, union, and organisation policies.

Empower your employees

Providing employees with the ability to access, review, and approve or reject their timecards supports your organisation's compliance needs while also improving employee engagement by empowering your employees.

Employees can view and attest to the accuracy of all time changes and totals as presented on their timecards before actual approvals are accepted. Information can be accessed and printed directly from Workforce Central as well as from Kronos InTouch and Kronos 4500 terminals, and the Workforce Mobile application.

Employee self-service features allow workers to approve timecard edits as well as access and print time-off balances, schedules, and more without having to ask a manager or human resources for help. For example:

- Missed Punch Entry
Employees can enter missed punch information for selected dates in the current pay period.
- Daily Timecard Edit Approval
Employees can review and approve or reject any changes made by their managers during the current pay period.
- Pay Period Approval
Employees can review and approve or reject their timecards for previous pay periods.

Employees can access all of these features from Kronos InTouch and 4500 terminals, via the web, or from a mobile device.

Capture responses from employees on meals

Included in the tool kit is a set of Smart View™ and web forms that enables employees to designate, as they punch out, whether or not they took their meal break. If an employee registers his or her punch with the "No Lunch" flag, the automatic meal deduction is canceled for the day and the supervisor is notified. This allows employees to "opt in" for their automatic meal deduction and eliminates the question of whether the meal was taken.

Key Benefits

The flexible, intelligent time-stamp feature can also be configured to block employees from returning early from their meals, effectively eliminating the meal premiums related to the early return, and can be tailored to allow employees to opt out of meal penalties as well.

Engage your employees

Beyond meal compliance, the Attestation Tool Kit can ask questions concerning paid breaks and injuries on the job, as well as require periodic acceptance of standard policies and even gauge employee engagement.

Drive health and safety with employee attestation of health status

Having an infectious employee working amongst the rest of your workforce puts your employees at risk of further spread, as well as your organisation at risk of needing to shut down or delay operations. With the Attestation Toolkit, you can create customised questionnaires upon clocking in that require your employees to attest to whether or not they are experiencing illness such as fever, sore throat or cold and flu symptoms – or have been in contact with anyone who has similar symptoms. Positive attestations will then be flagged with management so that an appropriate action plan can be implemented.

Employees attest to whether or not they had their full meal.

If they answer "No" they must confirm whether or not it was their choice.

Missed and taken meals can be viewed in timecard

Compliance reports for managers

The Attestation Toolkit provides you with the audit trail and reporting you need to understand your compliance exposure as well as feedback from employees.
